Divers

Remarks :

This 1979 centre cockpit Montevideo 43 designed and built by Fred Scholtz in South Africa is a fine sea boat that will require a bit of upgrading but she is priced accordingly. She is powered by a 2009 (approx.) Yanmar 56hp shaft driven diesel engine. Her inventory includes slab reefing mainsail, lazybag, furling genoa, hot water, chart-plotter, eight berths, davits and more. Engine serviced and boat antifouled in May 2026. She is a fine solid cruising yacht and is excellent value!

Accommodation :

Forward cabin

Two single berths, opening deck hatch and storage lockers.

Forward Heads

Marine toilet, wash hand basin and storage lockers

Saloon

Two settees, large saloon table with drop down leafs and loads of storage spaces

Galley

L-shaped to starboard which leads to aft cabin. Fully equipped including stainless steel sink, hot water, gas cooker and ample storage.

Chart Table

Located aft of the galley on the way to the aft cabin complete with electrical panels and instrumentation including, chart-plotter, depth sounder and DSC VHF

Aft cabin

Double berth offset to port with a settee to starboard, opening deck hatch and ample storage lockers. En-suite complete with marine toilet, wash hand basin and shower.

Second aft cabin

Accessed near the companionway steps to port with two single berths and storage lockers

Estimated water capacity is 200 litres
