Remarks :

The Westerly Cirrus is a well-built and capable 22-foot cruiser, offering solid performance and dependable handling in a compact package.

Designed by John Butler and constructed by the renowned Westerly Marine, the Cirrus features a fin keel for improved upwind ability and responsive sailing.

Below deck, she provides comfortable accommodation for up to four people, a practical galley, and a separate heads compartment — ideal for weekend cruising or coastal adventures. With her classic lines, durable construction, and proven sailing characteristics, this Cirrus is a great choice for sailors seeking a reliable and affordable small yacht
