Owner's note:

"I am selling my Yarding Yacht 36, a pleasant motor yacht with generous space for a 36-footer.

It is a spacious and sturdy boat, nearly 4 meters wide, which is very appreciable.

There are two cabins with two heads featuring a sink, shower, and marine toilet (no black water tank).

The engines run smoothly; I enjoy steering from the flybridge, which provides a panoramic view and makes maneuvering in ports easier.

I have logged about 200 hours of navigation over the past three years, with maintenance performed exclusively by professionals.

The filters were replaced in 2025, and the heat exchangers were also cleaned.

This boat does not have a bow thruster, but with the two engines, steering is easy using the four reverse and throttle levers (X2). It's a matter of habit, but there's no problem; it can turn on the spot.

I had the boat surveyed in 2023 and have had work done by local boatyards over time.

Currently, I am installing two solar panels to ensure some energy autonomy and keep the batteries charged.

This boat is 32 years old, which allows me to have a pied-à-terre in Brittany, where I enjoy spending time in the summer and taking beautiful coastal and estuary cruises.

It is equipped with an electric windlass and a complete anchoring system: anchor + chain, two davits for lifting the dinghy with a vertical stowage system, which is very practical for accessing the aft platform and launching.

I am selling because I wish to buy an even larger boat. The price I am asking is €45,000, which is reasonable for a boat of this size that sails well.

The boat is winterized ashore every year. I have a full aft cockpit cover, a honeycomb windshield cover that lets light through while providing privacy from the outside. For the purchase, I advise the buyer to have a survey done, if only for insurance purposes.

Otherwise, it is a boat ready to sail, as you can see in the recent photos!
