Accommodation :

The Quicksilver 700 Weekender makes excellent use of its interior space, providing comfortable accommodation for family cruising or weekends afloat. Designed with practicality and comfort in mind, she offers berths for up to five people, including a forward double berth, a convertible saloon dinette, and an additional single berth.

The light and airy saloon features a dinette with seating for four, which quickly converts into a double berth when required. Large windows and the sliding cabin door create a bright interior with good ventilation. To starboard, the well-equipped galley includes a sink with pressurised hot and cold water, 12v fridge, 2 burner gas hob and ample storage, making onboard catering simple and convenient. Hot water is heated by the engine and a 240V immersion heater.

A separate enclosed heads compartment offers privacy and is fitted with a chemical toilet, washbasin with hot and cold water, and storage.

Throughout the cabin, clever storage solutions—including lockers under seats and floor storage—ensure there is plenty of room for provisions and gear, making longer trips practical.
