Everyone can bid until February 16, 2026.</h3><h3>Classic Design with Modern Equipment</h3>The Retro Cabin 22 stands out with its timeless appearance, inspired by traditional fishing boats but with a modern finish. The hull is made of polyester, contributing to a solid construction and a relatively low weight of 950 kg. The clearance height of 2 meters allows it to pass under most bridges, while the draft of 38 cm ensures wide usability in shallower waters.The boat features an extended swim platform, which facilitates boarding from the water and provides extra space at the rear. The convertible top offers protection against sun and rain and can be easily removed or folded for an open sailing experience.<h3>Comfortable Interior and Overnight Possibilities</h3>Inside the Bluestar Retro Cabin 22, there is a surprisingly spacious cabin with a standing height of 2 meters. The layout is practical and focused on comfort during day trips or short stays on board. There are two fixed berths with mattresses and a compact dining area that invites relaxing moments on board.The boat is equipped with a manual toilet and an outdoor shower, making the stay on board more pleasant during longer trips. A refrigerator ensures that food and drinks can be kept cool, contributing to comfort during warm days on the water.<h3>Performance and Motorization</h3>The Bluestar Retro Cabin 22 is equipped with a Nanni N4.60 inboard diesel engine with a power of 60 hp. This four-cylinder turbo engine from 2011 is electrically started and offers a maximum speed of approximately 30 km/h. The engine is suitable for both leisurely trips and fast sailing on open water.
