Various

Carronade is a Cory Kent 33. She is a classic British-built cruiser known for its solid construction, practical layout, and comfortable accommodation. The Vendors were around when she was being built by Brian Core of Cory Yachts. Powered by a single engine, she offers straightforward and economical cruising, making her an excellent choice for relaxed coastal trips or weekends on the water. Carronade has been lightly used in recent times due to the owner's ill health. With a little care, she will quickly present very well again and be ready to enjoy. Opportunities like this are ideal for buyers looking for a well-built cruiser with plenty of character without needing to undertake major work. A great chance to acquire a Cory Kent 33 that just needs a bit of TLC. At Note from the Vendors: This vessel has travelled from Aarhus, in Denmark, through Europe down to the bay of Biscay and Westward to the Isles of Scillies. She has never faltered! Even when she was caught in a net, dumped by a French fishing boat, in a gale off the Channel Islands, she cut her way out with her rope cutter device! She was admired in Denmark, France, Holland and Belgium. I've had numerous offers for her especially in Holland and France; in Paris in the Arsenal. Carronade's mast was specially modified to be lowered to allow her to traverse the lower bridges in all the canals of Europe, Even the Brittany Canal-from St Malo to Arsal and sailed to the Islands off Biscay, unusual for a boat of her size. Her hard top was specially fitted, she is, I believe a one off! If you look at the symmetry of her shape she is a North Sea boat design for hard weather work, and she excels in her purpose! She has taken me every where and brought me back safely! To her new owner, "I look after her and she will look after you".
