2000 Feeling 30 – Lifting Keel Coastal Cruiser

Talisker 2000 Feeling 30 is a versatile compact cruiser designed for ease of handling and shallow-water access. With her lifting keel and single rudder configuration, she offers exceptional flexibility for coastal cruising, family sailing, or exploring tidal waters and yet is more than capable when it comes to longer distance bluewater cruising.

Designed by Gilles Vaton and Patrick Roséo, the Feeling 30 combines modern lines with proven

French craftsmanship. Her 18HP diesel engine provides reliable power, while her sloop rig features a roller furling genoa and slab reefing mainsail for straightforward sail management. Updated standing rigging from 2024 , five self-tailing winches.

Navigation equipment includes autopilot, chart plotter, and VHF. On deck, her layout is practical and secure, ideal for both short hops and longer passages.

Below deck, the Feeling 306 offers a surprisingly bright and comfortable interior. She sleeps four in two private cabins, with a welcoming saloon, full galley, heads with shower, and plentiful storage. Her smart design makes her a perfect choice for first-time buyers or experienced sailors seeking a well-balanced cruiser.
