Sloop 420 now in the online auction. everyone can bid until 22 June 2026.

Sloop 420 ready for relaxed cruises
This Sloop 420 is the kind of boat that immediately makes you want to head out on the water. She is compact enough to cruise effortlessly through canals and narrow ditches, yet offers surprisingly ample space to sit comfortably with family or friends. With her length of 4.20 metres and beam of 1.80 metres, the boat feels stable on lakes and open waters, while her shallow draft of around 20 centimetres invites you to explore shallower areas as well. The polyester hull also makes her practical for anyone who mainly wants to enjoy carefree leisure boating and a fun day on the water.

The sloop is offered via Boatauction and is described by the owner as a complete sloop with rope fendering, console steering and an outboard engine. This makes her an interesting option for anyone looking for an affordable sloop with a steering wheel, suitable for inland waterways, rivers and city canals.

What kind of boat is this Sloop 420 exactly?
The Sloop 420 is a polyester sloop with a clear, practical layout and an exterior console with steering-wheel control. She is designed for relaxed cruising, allowing the skipper to sit comfortably with good visibility. Thanks to her dimensions, the boat is easy to handle at moorings and in busier waterways, while still offering good seating comfort thanks to the included exterior cushions. The rope fendering around the boat gives her that classic sloop look and also helps when docking.

How does she run with the Hidea 9.9 hp outboard?
On the transom is a Hidea outboard engine, model HDF9.9FEL, a 4-stroke petrol engine with 10 hp. According to the information provided, the engine is operational, which is ideal for anyone who wants to get boating right away without starting an engine project first. This power suits the character of a 4.20-metre sloop well: relaxed cruising, nimble manoeuvring and comfortable trips through canals or across a lake. The combination of steering-wheel control and an exterior console makes handling accessible, even if you don't have years of experience with a sloop and outboard.

Is she suitable for canals and shallow water?
Yes; this is exactly where this Sloop 420 comes into her own. With a draft of about 20 centimetres, the boat can reach many places where deeper boats have to turn back. She has been used on inland waterways, canals and ditches, as well as on lakes and rivers. That broad range of use shows she feels at home in varied conditions, from a quiet evening loop through the city to a longer trip over open water on a fine day.

What is known about maintenance and condition?
The boat was last taken out of the water for maintenance in 2026. It is stated that there is no osmosis or signs of osmosis present, which is an important point for many buyers of a polyester sloop. The condition is listed as good. For those looking to buy a sloop at auction, it is often helpful when this kind of basic information is clearly provided, so you can set realistic expectations for viewing and bidding.

What equipment is included?
The sloop comes with exterior cushions, which immediately adds to onboard comfort. She is also fitted with rope fendering and console steering with a steering wheel. A trailer is not included and there is no dinghy included. This makes her especially interesting for buyers who already have a berth or who plan to keep the boat in the water during the season.

Anyone looking for a compact Sloop 420, a polyester sloop with steering wheel, or a sloop with a 9.9 hp outboard for inland waters will find an inviting candidate in this lady. She is made for relaxed hours on the water, with practical dimensions and a pleasant, accessible setup that suits carefree leisure boating.
