Corsiva 470 Classic de Luxe now in the online auction. everyone can bid until 21 September 2026.

corsiva 470 classic de luxe a compact sloop for relaxing days on the water the 2009 corsiva 470 classic de luxe is an attractive polyester sloop for those who enjoy getting out on the water in comfort and relaxation. with a length of 4.70 metres and a beam of 2.10 metres, she combines a manageable size with sufficient space for enjoyable day trips. the classic appearance of this corsiva is ideally suited to peaceful cruising through canals, waterways, ponds and lakes. she also performs well on sheltered rivers. this corsiva 470 classic de luxe has been used for leisure boating and day trips. during the summer months, she was kept in the water, after which she was stored in a shed. this usage profile is well suited to anyone looking for a complete boat for recreational cruising, without wanting something unnecessarily large or complicated. her polyester hull is practical to use and requires relatively little attention during the boating season.

corsiva 470 classic de luxe now in the online auction. everyone can place a bid until 21 September 2026.

how does the corsiva 470 classic de luxe handle? the boat is steered with a steering wheel positioned outside. this gives the skipper a clear view of the waterways and makes manoeuvring in narrow canals and harbours easy to oversee. the honda outboard motor delivers 15 hp and is a four-stroke petrol engine. it is electrically started and operational. this gives the corsiva user-friendly propulsion for relaxed trips on inland waterways, lakes and ponds. the combination of the relatively compact size and the 15 hp outboard motor makes her suitable for leisurely cruising with family or friends. anyone looking for a sloop in which to spend extended periods outdoors on warm days will benefit from the open layout and convenient operation from the steering position. the draft of approximately 20 centimetres also makes it possible to explore shallower waters, subject of course to local conditions.

what are the dimensions of this boat? the corsiva has a length of 4.70 metres and a beam of 2.10 metres. her draft is approximately 20 centimetres and her air draft is around 50 centimetres. this makes her suitable not only for lakes and ponds, but also interesting for cruising areas with low bridges and narrow passages. the interior has a headroom of approximately 180 centimetres, providing extra freedom of movement on board.

thanks to her dimensions, the corsiva 470 classic de luxe is easy to handle in a marina and practical to transport. she offers more comfort than a small open boat, while remaining easy to manage for a beginner or recreational skipper. her classic model name and deluxe specification also make her appealing to enthusiasts of a charming sloop with a timeless character.

is the boat supplied with a trailer? yes, this corsiva is supplied with a matching tilting road trailer from 2010. the trailer has one axle, four rollers and a winch. thanks to the tilting function, the boat can be conveniently launched at suitable ramps. the trailer is in good condition and is a valuable addition for anyone wishing to use the boat at different locations.

with the combination of sloop and trailer, the new owner can easily transport her to another lake, recreational area or cruising route. this provides considerable freedom of use and means that the boat is not tied to a single berth. when towing and launching, it is of course important to check local regulations, the permitted weight and the suitability of the towing vehicle.

who is this corsiva suitable for? this polyester sloop is suited to water sports enthusiasts looking for a complete boat for recreational use. she is suitable for relaxed family outings, an afternoon on the water with friends or leisurely trips through historic canals and rural waterways. the open steering position, electric start and honda four-stroke engine make her easy to use on a daily basis.

the corsiva 470 classic de luxe is also an interesting candidate for anyone buying a sloop for the first time. her dimensions remain manageable, while the beam gives her a stable and inviting feel on board. the boat has been used on inland waterways, canals, waterways, lakes, ponds and rivers, making her suitable for a wide range of recreational boating plans.

what makes her interesting for the auction?

the corsiva 470 classic de luxe is offered as a complete package consisting of a sloop, honda 15 hp outboard motor and tilting trailer. she is ready for new adventures and provides an excellent basis for relaxed enjoyment on the water. the electric start, steering-wheel control and practical trailer make her user-friendly for various types of recreation.

anyone looking for a corsiva sloop for sale with a trailer, outboard motor and classic appearance would do well to inspect her carefully during the auction. prospective buyers can assess the boat's general condition, the operation of the engine, the trailer and the equipment included for themselves. this corsiva 470 classic de luxe is a versatile and charming choice for anyone wanting to get out on the water with a compact boat that is easy to transport and enjoyable to use.
